

CAPTURED AS SLAYER OF PRISON KEEPER

New Jersey Negro Fugitive Fails on Arraignment Here.

William Gadsden, a negro wanted in Hackensack, N. J., for robbery and for killing a jail keeper, was arrested early to-day at 430 Street and Amsterdam Avenue and later taken to West Side Court, where he failed to appear for arraignment. He was taken to Flower Hospital a prisoner.

In July, 1919, Gadsden and another negro are alleged to have held up a paymaster. Both were captured. In jail Gadsden pretended to be sick and, it is charged, lured a keeper into his cell, where his pal was with him. The keeper was beaten to death with a stool. The prisoners fled after shooting a policeman and two railroad detectives.

Gadsden said he lived at No. 2155 Fifth Avenue. He was identified in court by Deputy Sheriff Joseph Kinsley of Bergen County, N. J.

CHECKLEY'S WIFE THOUGHT HIM DEAD

Married Again Thinking Calvary Church Deacon Had Been Killed Overseas.

Marital affairs of St. Seymour Checkley, deacon and chief usher of the Calvary Baptist Church, were complicated to-day by the announcement of his wife in Boston that she would "fight to get what is coming to me."

Deacon Checkley is suing William and George Bowker of Woodcliff, N. J., for $20,000 damages for alleged assault. He is said to have told the Bowker family when he became engaged to Miss Lucille Bowker that his wife was dead.

In Boston Mrs. Lillian Anna Burroughs Checkley said she had been told by an investigator she employed that Checkley had gone overseas in the World War, had been "gassed and had died," and she had been married again. Her second husband is Howard S. Mittenell, a Boston upholsterer. She said that since hearing of the damage suit she had begun action for separate maintenance.

POLICE DOUBT STORY OF "BANK ABSCONDER"

Looks As Though Girl's "Follow Me" Eyes Were Part of Yarn.

To the police it begins to look as though William Murphy is a charter member of the Ananias Club anxious to gain a new degree. Murphy was arrested on Monday in a Harlem cabaret throwing around quarters and half dollars. He told the police that lured by a girl's "follow me" eyes he had robbed a bank for which he worked in Wasco, Minn., and had concealed some $11,000 in Chicago.

Now along comes Wasco and says he never worked in a bank, no bank there was robbed and they don't know him.

Magistrate Simpson has adjourned the case until to-morrow, so that the police may investigate further. His picture has been sent to Wasco.

Prisoner, Awaiting Trial, Called by Highest Tribunal.

When the case of Dr. Jehiel Patrick of No. 494 West 23d Street was called to-day in Jefferson Market Court, Chief Magistrate McAdoo was informed by Assistant District Attorney Stetple that the defendant had died on Tuesday last of tuberculosis in New York Hospital. He was suspected of having performed an illegal operation upon Emma Haput of No. 418 West 23d Street in August, from which the woman died.

11,000 MILKMEN MAY STRIKE NOV. 1

Drivers Stand by Demand for $5 Increase and Two Weeks' Vacation.

A strike of the 11,000 milk drivers and assistants in the metropolitan district on Nov. 1, when the present contract expires, appeared probable to-day, following a meeting of representatives of the Milk Drivers' Union and the distributors at the Hotel Continental.

The union leaders refused to concede from their demand for a flat increase of $5 a week, shorter working hours and two weeks' vacation with pay every year. An offer of arbitration by the distributors will be considered by the union at a mass meeting probably Monday night. A committee of the drivers said it would probably be refused.

The distributors have asked the workers to take a wage cut amounting to 15 per cent. for outside men and 10 per cent. for inside men.

Jabbed Pooling With Knife.

Baldomero Hinnlogosa, nineteen, and Oscar Sanchez, seventeen, both of No. 60 Jane Street, were found with a butcher knife in the kitchen of the restaurant at No. 116 Park Row to-day, when Sanchez accidentally jabbed Hinnlogosa in the abdomen, sending him to Volunteer Hospital.

Acquitted of Killing Sister.

Supreme Court Justice Strong directed a verdict of not guilty to-day for Arthur Conboy, twenty-one, who on May 15 accidentally shot and killed his sister, Anne, nineteen, at the home of their aunt, Miss Ellen Connolly, at No. 29 Seventh Avenue, Brooklyn.

An Orconco biplane will be used and the machine will take off from Curtiss Field at 2,300 P. M. The present record of 19,500 feet for a machine with four passengers is held by a Loening monoplane. "Why Are You Selling
Clothing at Less Than Wholesale?"

An acquaintance of ours asked us that question the other day. You might ask the same question. Here's the answer:

To-day the retail trade is demanding a cheaper grade of clothing than we have ever made or will make. There is no longer the big market for high grade clothing that there has been. And we do not care to restrict our output.

To settle the problem we've decided to get out of business altogether. In order to protect for all time the reputation of Rochester Art Clothes we are disposing of our million dollar stock direct to the public.

These are all finely tailored garments, made up for this season. The man who designed them—Frank Laura—was for ten years with Schanz and J. F. Lani-gan, of Fifth Avenue.

The fabrics are high class. From overseas there are J. & J. Crombie, Ltd., Caledon, Carr's Meltons and O'Brien. From domestic mills there are Worumbo, Hockanum, Princeton, Metcalf, Dunn's, Kunhardt and Standish. These names mean something to men who pay high prices for their clothes.

Does your family want you
or your insurance?

If insurance will compensate your family for your absence, get more of it.

If it won't, take a little more care of yourself.

That cold, for instance. Do you know that a fellow who can catch a cold is easy prey for any disease germ that really wants to get him? The cold germ is one of the easiest for your body to overcome before its invasion has resulted in disease. But if your body wasn't equal to the task this time, your resistance is pretty low. Watch your step!

Creofos will quickly destroy the cold germ, and will prevent the more dangerous ones—such as influenza and pneumonia—from attacking you while your body is again building up its resistive strength.

Every hour of delay lays you open to successful invasion by disease. And when influenza or pneumonia sets in, it may be too late even for the doctor. A day's delay may mean your death. If you have a cold, take Creofos this very hour!

Creofos is sold by your druggist in three forms:

CREOFOS (liquid) $1.25 per bottle. CREOFOS CAPSULES for convenience $1.50 per box. CREOFOS WITH SULPHUR for use in coughs $1.50 per bottle.

Free on request: 40 page booklet of common-sense precautions against serious infectious diseases.
